THE INFORMATION YOU NEED TO ENJOY YOUR LSGL SUMMER SCHOOL EXPERIENCE IN SPAIN

WELCOME TO IE!

In order to ensure that your IE experience is as smooth as possible, Student Services offers you resources and information vital for your experience in Spain. From obtaining the student visa to finding accommodation, exploring medical insurance options or getting mobile phone service, we are here to assist you.

If you have any questions or concerns please contact our student services department here.

VISA REQUIREMENTS

Students are advised to check with the Spanish Consulate in their home country regarding Visa Requirements before departing to Spain.

Students coming from outside the European Union may need to apply for a tourist visa (Schengen visa).

Please take into account that the delivery of the Visa may take several weeks, so it is convenient that you start with the paperwork as soon as possible. You can begin paperwork 90 days ahead of your flight. The International Office will provide the acceptance letters required for visas.

For more information visit Student Services or contact lsglsummer@ie.edu

TUITION

Tuition is €1,000 per student. The fee covers all academic courses, some social and/or cultural activities and programs and light cafeteria meals, provided every Monday through Friday when lectures are being held.

Students need to budget separately for housing, insurance, evening and weekend meals and entertainment expenses.

Each member school will be responsible for paying tuition fee of at least one student, whether or not a student is in attendance.

MEDICAL INSURANCE

All students are required to have medical insurance coverage to cover any illness or accident that may occur during their stay in Spain. This coverage can be ensured by means of the European Health Card, for EU citizens that have the option of applying for it in their country of origin, or by private medical insurance. For the latter, our school has partnerships with several insurance companies.

Applicants for the Schengen visa shall prove that they are in possession of adequate and valid travel medical insurance to cover any expenses that might arise in connection with repatriation for medical reasons, urgent medical attention and/or emergency hospital treatment, during their stay(s) on the territory of the Member States.

The insurance shall be valid throughout the territory of the Schengen Area Member States and cover the entire period of the person's intended stay or transit. The minimum coverage shall be €30,000.

PAYMENT

If you decide to make a transfer it is very important that you identify transfer by sending the receipt directly to lsglsummer@ie.edu and clearly indicate 6th LSGL Summer School and your name, Payments are due no later than June 10, 2018.

LIVE A TRUE CAMPUS EXPERIENCE DURING THIS SUMMER AT IE

The IE University campus in the city of Segovia offers a true campus experience. It is housed in the Convent of Santa Cruz la Real, a historic building declared a national heritage site in 1931.

Segovia is a fairytale city full of narrow, twisting alleyways, Romanesque churches, and beautiful buildings. Additionally, this province of Spain has always been famous for its climate and its traditional cuisine. It is definitely not just a city to be admired from afar, but a great place live a unique summer experience.

WEEK 1. COURSES

1. CLIMATE CHANGE, JUSTICE AND COURTS

In recent years there has been a proliferation of legal challenges brought against states, corporate actors and transnational institutions for failing to meet domestic and international commitments to reduce human induced climate change. Courts all over the world are responding robustly, recognising the need to act and mandating specific responses. These cases have important symbolic value in the fight against climate change. As a result, they have been well-publicised, and the number of legal challenges across the globe has snowballed.

It is tempting to view these cases as victories that are the embodiment of climate justice. However, this betrays an overly simplistic reading of the cases. Through this course, students will be equipped to interrogate and think deeply about this new body of global climate change jurisprudence. The course is divided into three parts: an introduction to the nature of climate change as a 'hot' legal problem, an exploration of the concept of climate justice, and an analysis of the role that climate justice plays in the adjudication of the leading climate change cases.

PROFESSORS

EMILY BARRITT

Emily Barritt is a Lecturer at The Dickson Poon School of Law, where she teaches courses on tort law, environmental law and the global law of climate change. She has a BA in Jurisprudence from the University of Oxford and a PhD from King's College London. She has previously taught at the University of Oxford and was a Centre Fellow at the Centre for Environment Energy and Natural Resource Governance at the University of Cambridge. Emily's research considers the nature of environmental justice, rights, democracy and stewardship.

MELANIE J. MURCOTT

Melanie J Murcott is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Public Law, Faculty of Law, University of Pretoria, where she teaches administrative and environmental law. She holds an LLB cum laude from the University of Cape Town and an LLM cum laude (masters in Administrative Law and Constitutional Law) from the University of Pretoria. Melanie is admitted as an attorney of the High Court of South Africa, and as a solicitor of England and Wales. Her research focuses on the potential of environmental law to contribute to South Africa's project of transformative constitutionalism.

2. NEW TRENDS IN INTERNATIONAL TAXATION

The aim of the course is to introduce students to the field of international tax law and to provide students with an understanding of tax law from an international perspective. The course will present the current legal rules and cover the policy arguments, in particular in the light of the OECD's recent Base Erosion and Profit Shifting Project (BEPS), which has arguably changed the rules for international tax law.

PROFESSORS

ELEONORA LOZANO

Professor Eleonora Lozano is the director of the Ph.D. in Law and of the tax law programmes in the Faculty of Law of Universidad de los Andes, Colombia. She is a lawyer and an economist from Universidad de los Andes, she did her master's degree in economics in the same university and holds a doctorate degree in law from Universidad de Salamanca in Spain, where she obtained the cum laude distinction.

Professor Lozano has done extensive research in matters regarding national and international taxation, public finance, law and economics, fiscal theory and policy, economic analysis of law, alternative mechanisms for national and international conflict resolutions, as well as ethics and taxation.

TRACY GUTUZA

Tracy Gutuza is an Associate Professor Tax Law in the Department of Commercial Law, at the University of Cape Town in South Africa where she also holds the position of Deputy Dean: Undergraduate Studies in the Faculty of Law. She is involved in the teaching of both undergraduate and postgraduate law students, in the areas of tax and finance law. She has an LLB from the University of Cape Town, an LLM from the University College of London and a PhD from University of Cape Town. She has published in the field of tax law and her research interests are in the areas of business law, tax law, finance law, international tax law and legal education.

WEEK 2. COURSES

1. CURRENT CHALLENGES IN TRADE AND INVESTMENT LAW

The proposed course focuses on current challenges in international trade and investment law. This course will pay particular attention to the trade and investment law challenges of the new global order that have emerged from the globalization backlash in the era of Brexit and Trump, the emancipation of big developing countries and the negotiation and conclusion of preferential trade agreements and especially the new 'megaregional' agreements. Apart from the need to critically rethink the vested notions in trade and investment law, the course will also cover other topical challenges that are changing our global trade and investment landscape, such as the emergence of global e-commerce and services trade, as well as issues regarding restrictive trade practices in natural resources and energy.

JOHANNA JACOBSSON

Dr. Johanna Jacobsson is Assistant Professor at the IE University in Madrid, Spain. She is a lawyer and academic specialized in international economic law. Her main fields of expertise are international trade law (especially preferential trade agreements, services trade and digital trade) and the EU's internal market law and external trade relations. Johanna's current research interests lie especially in the effects of technology and digitization on international trade and business.

Johanna holds a PhD in European and international law from the European University Institute, Florence, Italy (2016) and LLB, LLM and BA degrees from the University of Helsinki, Finland. She has previously acted as a law clerk at the Court of Justice of the European Union and been a visiting researcher at the Finnish Institute of International Affairs. She has also practiced law in a commercial law firm.

ANNA MARHOLD

Dr. Anna Marhold is Assistant Professor and Senior Researcher at the Tilburg Law and Economics Center (TILEC) where she researches and teaches on various topics of international and European law. Her main research interests lie at the intersection of international economic law, energy and environmental regulation. Anna is also a Fellow at the Cambridge University-based C-EENRG Platform on Global Energy Governance. Her monograph, titled Energy in International Trade: Concepts, Regulation and Changing Markets, is forthcoming with Cambridge University Press (2018). Anna obtained a PhD in Law at the European University Institute in Florence. During her PhD, she was an EU-US Fulbright Schuman Grantee and Visiting Scholar at NYU School of Law. Additionally, she was a Marie Curie Early Research Fellow in the Framework of DISSETTLE, Dispute Settlement in Trade Law and Economics at the Graduate Institute in Geneva. Anna holds parallel degrees in Law (LLB, LLM) and Russian (BA, MA) from the University of Amsterdam.

MARCO DE BENITO

Dr. Marco de Benito is Professor at the IE University in Madrid, Spain. He is an expert in international arbitration and comparative private and procedural law. He has taught, spoken, and done research in universities in Europe, Asia, and the Americas. At IE University he has headed the Jean Monnet Module "Towards a Common Private Law of Europe." He has also consulted for the Justice Commission of the Spanish Congress and for the Argentine Cabinet on the reform of their respective laws on arbitration. He is a member of the Procedural Law Board of the Spanish Royal Academy of Jurisprudence and Legislation. In parallel to his academic career, Professor de Benito has acted as arbitrator and represented clients in arbitrations seated in Paris, London, Geneva, Madrid or Miami, applying Spanish, Italian and Austrian law, as well as the lex mercatoria (merchant law). He has been selected by Global Arbitration Review as one of the foremost international arbitration practitioners under 45.

2. CORPORATE GOVERNANCE -FROM COMPARATIVE TO GLOBAL

This course, which falls within the interests of the Business & Law research group, provides an understanding of selected legal features that underlie firms' organization and business transactions. Although there may be singularities in features, rules and institutions that vary in each jurisdiction, the course looks at several legal systems as a way of grasping their commonalities and stressing how functional and economic reasons inspire the configuration and functioning of most of them.

During the course, we will search for the functional motivation and the justification of institutions and rules. An interdisciplinary approach will be followed in trying to ascertain the reasons for the institutions being how they are. In addition, the related private international law issues will be discussed.

PROFESSORS

SARA SÁNCHEZ

Professor Sánchez has been teaching and researching at Universidad Rey Juan Carlos and Universidad Autónoma of Madrid from 2008 to 2013. From 2014 and until 2016, she has been in practice as a lawyer at the law firm Uría Menéndez, specialised in IPOs. Together with this, she worked as corporate governance and company law counsel to Spanish listed companies. Professor Sanchez has focused her interest on economic private international law (mainly corporate and capital markets law issues), from an EU perspective.

AMIR LICHT

Former dean of the Radzyner School of Law at the Interdisciplinary Center Herzliya. After graduating in law and in economics at the Tel Aviv University, Prof Licht worked as an intern and attorney in the Hertzog Fox and Neeman law firm, following which he continued his studies at Harvard University where he earned his LLM and SJD. His works were published in leading journals in law, financial economics, and business. Prof Licht teaches corporate law, securities law, and related topics. Main disciplines of research: cultural dimensions of social institutions, comparative corporate governance, international securities regulation, combining insights from psychology and finance.
